should hardly expect from such a source. Were the words ours, and were so to call slavery a "magazine," our neighbor would come out in selemn and grave rebuke and tell us of "Abra-ham's household," and the "patriarchal instiham's household," and the "patriarchal insti-tations," and the love between master and slave, and how fond are the relations and ties that bind poor Quashee to the plantation and the slave quarters. The individual all teo notoriously known as Beast Brown was subsequently arrested, and sentenced to the Penitentiary for the crime. He had two accomplices, who have been at large up to a day or two since, when as before stated in our columns, Michael Kirby sliss Michael Shasky, was arrested in the interior of this State, and brought to this city, where he was yesterday examined and fully committed to trial for the offence. The evidence against him consists mainly of the substance of his confessions to one Finnicane, really a detective in Capt. Bradley's employ, but occupying a feigued position in his association with the prisoner. Finnicane says he slept with Kirby—that they had frequent and long conversations, and this is Kirby's statement.

He lived in Chicago at the time of the fire, the winter of '57-58. Was employed about the Gas Company's yard. Had a good place, and attributes his crime, and the loss of his piace, to his association with Brown, against whom he centertains the bitterest feeling. On the rear and reaching from the bridge to a back door siep was a plank. This plank was used as an out house, and it was the only accommodations of the kind belonging to the premises. In this building were twelve families having thirty children, occupying single rooms for the most part at a rent of $2 per month.

These rooms have each a door, and window on the same end with the door. Neither these rooms, nor the immates, nor the immates' clothing was ever washed. Under every window and in front of every door was deposited the slops, refuse vegetables and other more offensive matter.

Physicians entreated the immates of this location to drain this pond of stagnant water, clear away the fifth, wash up the rooms, and save the money expended in drunkeness and buy milk for their chilaren. The owner of the building was requested to improve the condition of his tenements.

The Board of Complaint was solicited to interfer for the benefit of the children in these tenements, as many of them were then suffering with messies and fever. In this case the common reply to such complaints was returned, "There is no money in the tressury." This is a solitary instance, but it answers for the death of eight of the children in the above mortality for July.

At a given signal two of our most skillful rid, or started in full chase after the ludian, and in open view of the enemy upon, the hill. The fugitive no sconer saw seur men in pursuit than he threw his clock off and with the speed of an antelope made for the hills, but he was too late. The race was a hard one; his comrades on the hills say his peril but shared not come to his relief. We counted thirty-one mounted dodians emerge from the cannon, but they were afraid to advance beyond its manth, the guitte turned and fired upon the foremost of his pursuers, who saw his object and threw himself dexterously over on the opposite saids of his horse, (as the Spaniards,) the ball peaning harmlessly over the horse. The mider then raised and fired, bringing the indian to this three with a ball frem his revolver. As he rode up the savenge clutched at the rope hanging from the horse's need; the rider again drew his plated and fired. The ball sureed the neet of the Indian, who beak his grip, and with his dying gap gare the ways know, which was answered by his comrades from the hill, who dared not oome to his relief. A Tope was then tied around his leg, and hie was dragged into eamp. A Southern Sicenmal Project.

A circular has been issued by the Baltim Chamber of Commerce, addressed to Governors of all the Southern States, in issuen to the establishment of direct isl course, by steam, between the southern States and Europe.

The resolution names the Chesapeake Bay the terminas on this side of the Atlantic, the circulars recognize other ports, indicast Charleston particularly, as a faror able position and mention the concurrence of South Carolinas important is order to bring the whole Section 1.

charreston particularly, as a larger sale position and mention the concurrence of South Carolin as important in order to bring the whole South from Mary land to Texas, into common policy for the establishment of a Southern ateamship line. The inducements appear to be mainly addresses to the Southern Atlantic States.

The capital required in estimated at $3,000,000. The ships, it is said, could be easily abtained in Europe, on a guarantee of interest not to exceed 6 per cent, per annum. The committee thint they might be obtained upon much more favorable terms if the company were to purchase them with the State bonds or cash, and that it would most desirable to sail them under the American flag.

In this were the following questions are propounded to the Southern Executives:

We, therefore propound to you the following questions: What amount of interest would your State agree to guarantee annually for the

We make the following interesting extracts from the Æings thes; WEATHER, CROPS AND HARVESTS IN EUROPE. WEATHER, CROIS AND HARVESTS IN EUROPE.

From the fonder Times.

The last week has not been favorable for gathering in the wheat crop in those localities, where it has been already out. The weather has been, with the exception of one day, both atomy and welt. Rain fell without intermission in Parasal dayon Friday, and until twelve on Saturday; since then the weather has been fine and tolerably warm, but without sunshine. Nothing can be more untavorable than this weather for the districts where the army has commenced; it injures the quality of the grain and some farmers complain that the new wheat is sprouting in the stacks. Complaints of the weather are heard from the agriculturists of the Doube and Jura in the Siene Inferieur, and from the neighborhood of Sens and Monteretu. On the other hand, while the sky in the North of France is clouded, and storm, rain, and even fog prevail, other parts of France are favored with splendid weather.

We are informed by private letters that the summer is magnificent in the department of the Aio, and that not a drop of rain has fallon in the Hante Saone, for the last six weeks. An extraordinary abundance is remarked in those districts of fay, corn, fruit and vegetables. Cherries are ap abundant in some orchards tat quantities have been left on the trees. We are further informed that in the Palatinate the crops present hemselsevies under the most favorable appearance. Wheat and barley, the principal corn crops in the Bavarian provinces, never looked better; the same is said of hops so de-bacco. The time yadds, likewise, promise an

The following are extracts of letters from a European resident in Damascus to a friend in Beyrout:

DAMASCUS, July 14, 9 A. M.—You must bave received most inadequate accounts of the state and burying usual in every possions over 1 has even the wells are being destroyed, and on them the Christians chiefly depended for water for drinking and cooking. Could destruction be more complete?

Yesterday things seemed better. The Algorinas of Abd-el-Kader, and even the Druses, were taking miserable wretches out of the wells and other hiting places, and conveying them is asfesty to the Canile. These must have been without food since Monday morning. The houses of the wealthy were generally stateched at the very first. With this exception, as distinction of parsons, rashes or seem was maderical and the very first. With this exception, as distinction of parsons, rashes or seem was maderical and the very first. With this exception, as distinction of parsons, rashes or seem was suderical and the very class was killed. Mr. Graham was tilled in Teaching morning, within a few perchas or yards of the commisse, and it is appeared to have perchased. He

The Pasha would at in despite the step of the step in the step of the step in the step of the ste cerence of the Osmanlis themselves from the Arabe, and not to act on behalf of Christians. The guard at the door will not fight to protect he Consultate. Some of the officers and men-vers at Hasbeyra and Rasheys. The Turks, mong them are quiet, but the Arabe sat the longul's bread and indulgs themselves in cursopsul's bread and indulge themselves in curs-g him, and saying we ought to be all slengh-red. His very cavasses were plundering, ine Christians who knew the cavass of the ustrian Consulate, and fied to his house, were Austrian Consulate, and fied to his house, were delivezed up by him to be murdered in his hoses, and I believe in his presente. We depend on such fellows for protestions, and that against their friends, associates, and co religionists. Mr. Brant does not know these things and pooh-poohs the ides of danger, as he did all along. He has done admirably, bebly, all he could, and more than could have been expected of him, but he is an old and feeble man, and yesterday and to-day his health betrays alarmof him, but he is an old and feeble man, an yesterday and to-day his health betrays alarming symptoms of giving way. The Pash amuses us from day to day with lies, just as bid in the case of Hasbeya. Mustapha Pash has a small force in the Hanran, two days off.

A bundred times during our suspense about Hasbeya the Muschir declared he had ordered that force hither. It sever moved. From day to day he says it will come here to day, and it has not come. He has been declaring that it force left Beyrout on Tuesday; alept at Demai last night; the begginge of the Pasha had arrived, etc. Also that Ameri Pasha was to have been here from Baabee. It is all iles. What trust can be put in a government who has been juging for the past away meaks? In fast, the mob may cut all our throats at any moment, if they wish, and we are at the mercy of ar accilying for the past seven weaks? In use, the mob may out all our throats at any homent, if they wash, and we are at the mercy of arf accident, an excitement, a false report, so far as men is concerned. We can only put our trust in God, at least since the example of Hasbaya. Representations should be made by every post to Beyrout, to Constantinepte, to Europe, and the Christian population must continue to be exposed to destruction at any hour till troops arrive. Now the evil is dese troops are talked of. I pray God that they may not come too late to help and deliver the survivors. Should an insurrection arise in any of the towns on the coast that the foreign ships or troops attack Molems, we are all gone. I write thus, and yot I am less starmed and more hopeful, and have suffered less than any other Frank in the city.

have suffered less than any other Frank in the city.

There is no business here. It is difficult to procure bread, mest and vegetables. The shops are all shut, the great getse of the khaes and bazaars are all shut, and opened for no one. The people of each quarter have begun to guard it, and will not let any strangers pass through it unless bringing provations for the city. This, indeed, gives us some hope of safety, but it is from the citizens who begin to fear for themselves and property. The government have done nothing. The one wish and prayer of as all is form away of escape to Beyrout.

Bazaacus, Shattragy, July 14, 45 P. M.—The French acting Consul is about to send a mesanger to Heyrout. Mr. Hrant is better to day, but he is busy writing a despatch, and he asked to write to you for him, and say that we are getting on well ind hopefully; but they are slow in burying the corpies, and, if this be neglected, we shall have a player. The Pasha is finding bread for the people in the castle. Moslems, and even Drusses, are taking their friends

quiet

The plunderers are still carrying off remnants of timber and marble, and stones from the house of the Drienter. As wor as he transfeed become safe, and I get my affairs a little arranged, I shall go to Beyrout, perhaps to London, to give the account of an eye witness to people and Government.

The correspondential that London Merning Post, at Romon writes that a new miracle has just been perfected by one of the recently bestited as into the control of the recently bestited as into the control of the recently bestited as into the control of the recently bestited as the control of the recently bestited of the result of the recently bestited on the reakening, he was bested on the reakening, he mainly being entirely disposited and ber strength and motion restored. Crowds of devout and inquintive wilstors are continually thronging the woman's residence, where also sits man are chair to receive all domers, relating and revealing the marvellous of mirrousious interposition in her behalf. Gendames are on the premises to keep order among the crowd, and to draw up authentic acquaits of any new man. Another Miracle.

A most extraordinary case is now trying before one of the French dearts. A certain M. C. died, leaving an express order to his heirs that he should be buried in church, and a handsome sum paid to the prissts on condition that "so-body should laugh while the service was going on." The intelligent defunct had observed that suidertakers and priests p-rmit themselves very often to take hisrions liberty with death, and he was determined that he should be buried with the gravity appropriate to the grave. Of course the odd request got noised abroad; all the village came to the funeral; and everybudy keeping an eye on everybody else to see that nobody should so suich as whith, the natural result followed. Afat priest near the coffin was the first to break down; the choir boys, in the frailty of their youth, followed the fat priest; the minor canons, trying to stop the choir boys, or at least to make them "langh out of the wrong side of their mouths," caught the concast went of next in a full gridway and firstly the core himself was conquered and choked in his handkerchief. In short, a merrier interment was never witnessed. It was the joke of A Singular Trial.

AN ANACORA As Lament and of the 18th inst. says that considerable excitement exists in Semerville, owing to the presence of a black anaconds, which is said to have escaped from the Susseum of Natural History in Cambridge about six week ago. The serpent is represented as being about thirtee feet long and of a most dangerous character It was first seen in this town on Wednesday b feel loug and of a most dangerous coaracier.

It was first seen in this town on Wednesday by a daughter of Mr. Edward Catter, in his garden on Walnut street. The little girl was accompanied by a vounger sister. Seeing the reptile she caught up her sister and ran into the house, where ahe fainted from fright. The slarm was given and search instituted for the serpent, which was discovered in about a hour by a young man named Charles Hawes, who is in the employ of Mr. Abram Moore. It was then coming out-of a rye field adjoining the garden. While the young man went for a yun, the serpent took refuge under the barn of Mr. Moore, where it is supposed to be still concealed, from the tast that a commotion has been heard among the fowls, many of which are missing. The presumption is that the serpent has regaled himself upon these delicacies. A white adder and to have seasand from the musem at the

From the statement of the business of the Sant Canal, to be found below, it will be seen that the shipments of copper in the month of July were 2,797 tons, and the shipment of from ore was 34,872 tons. Total estimated value of all articles passed through the eansi in that mouth was over a million and a half of dollars. The humber of measurement that was up and down was over a million and a half of dollars. The number of passengers that went ap and down during the same nme was two thousand nine hundred and fifty-seven.

EXPORTS OF FLOUR AND GRAIN FROM REW YORK FOR WRIK

EXPLICAC GROUPS 15, 1805. Southern Crop News.

The editor of the Enterprise (Miss.) New' having recently visited Lauderdale and Newton Counties in that State, reports the crops, both carn and coston, simost a total failure. Many planters will not make fifty bushels at corn, who have herestofore made several hundred bushels to spars. He saw some fields that would not make the seed planted. The cotton weed is very small, and has the fewest sumber of bolls on it will be impossible to make one fourth of a crop. starve."

The Vicksburg (Miss.) Sun says in certain portions of Madison, Leake, Attala, Winston-Choctaw, and Scott counties, the farmers will not make enough corn to plant next year, much less enough to support themselves and faulties. The drouth still continues. Our farmers, or at least a majority of them, will not make bread. Franklin is as dry as a powder nill, and the dust as thick as the earth can make it.

—Franklin (Ky.) Democratic Banner.

No Ran Xyr — More than six weeks have elapsed since a fall of rain in our county. The MARINE JOURNAL elapsed since a fall of rain in our county. The condition of our farmers is, as a consequence, more deplorable than was ever known to follow such bright prospects as gladdecied every heart but a short time ago. Even the late corn is hopelessly blighted, and grasses of all kinds, postoces and other regetables in the ground, have decayed.—Gallstin (Tean.) Examiner.

Scancry or Grafts.—A party of gentlemen undertook to travel through Arkansas lately on horseback, but were compelled to return on account of the scarcity of corn. In many places they say the present corp in good, but the people seem to apprehend hard times, and will not part with a peck to a stranger at any price. Prop Chicago, Collins, Borthols, sentries.
